

The Golant Pill – report for the APM Tuesday 23rd May 2017

The Golant Pill continues to keep the village informed both about what has happened and also about what will happen. Huge thanks are owed to Mike and Gillie, who, despite a difficult few months, have continued to edit this village publication to an exceptionally high standard.

Those who run village organisations will know that two years ago The Pill was in dire financial straits. Since that time, we have transferred the printing from being ‘in-house’ to The Palace Printers in Lostwithiel, and we have gained the services of Tony Strachan as our treasurer. The net result is that we are now in a very healthy financial position, which is why all village organisations are being given a holiday from their usual annual contribution to the running of The Pill. This does not mean that we have forgotten the very generous support we received from all the village groups when we needed it – thank you.

Advertisers are also enjoying a much reduced advertising rate now that our finances are back in balance, and we hope to continue to be of service to the residents of Golant for many years to come.
